GDPR POLICY

1. Introduction

Lockrose (“we,” “our,” or “the Company”) is committed to ensuring that your privacy is protected in accordance with the UK’s General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR). This policy outlines how we collect, use, store, and protect your personal data, and the rights you have in relation to your data.

Lockrose is a Project Management consultancy, and as part of our business operations, we process personal data in the course of providing our services. This policy applies to all individuals whose personal data we collect, including employees, clients, contractors, and suppliers.

2. Purpose of This Policy

This policy is designed to inform you about how we collect, use, store, and protect personal data, as well as your rights under the UK GDPR. Lockrose Limited is committed to compliance with the UK GDPR, ensuring that all personal data is processed lawfully, fairly, and transparently.

3. Data Protection Principles

We adhere to the following data protection principles when processing personal data:

- Lawfulness, fairness, and transparency: We process personal data in a lawful, fair, and transparent manner.
- Purpose limitation: We collect personal data only for specified, legitimate purposes and do not process it in a manner that is incompatible with those purposes.
- Data minimisation: We ensure that the personal data we collect is relevant and limited to what is necessary for the purposes of processing.
- Accuracy: We take reasonable steps to ensure that the personal data we hold is accurate and up to date.
- Storage limitation: We keep personal data only for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected.
- Integrity and confidentiality: We implement appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect personal data from unauthorised access, alteration, disclosure, or destruction.

4. Types of Personal Data We Collect

In the course of our business, we collect the following types of personal data:

- Contact Information: Name, address, email address, phone number, and other contact details.
- Employment Details: Job title, employment history, educational background, and other work-related information.
- Financial Information: Bank account details, invoicing information, and other financial records necessary for the provision of services.
- Client and Supplier Information: Personal details of representatives of clients and suppliers, including their roles, contact information, and any other details relevant to our contractual relationship.

- Project-related Information: Any personal data related to the management and delivery of client projects, such as communications and project team details.

5. How We Collect Personal Data

We collect personal data in the following ways:

- Directly from individuals: We may collect data when you provide it directly to us (e.g., via forms, emails, or in-person communication).
- From third-party sources: We may obtain personal data from third parties, including business partners, clients, and suppliers, as necessary to fulfill our contractual obligations.
- Automatically: We may collect data through automated means, such as website tracking or system logs, when you interact with our website or services.

6. Lawful Basis for Processing Personal Data

Under the UK GDPR, we process personal data based on the following lawful bases:

- Contractual Necessity: We process personal data as required to fulfill a contract with the individual (e.g., client or supplier agreements).
- Consent: We may obtain explicit consent to process personal data in certain situations, such as marketing communications or special categories of data.
- Legal Obligation: We may process personal data to comply with legal obligations, such as tax or employment laws.
- Legitimate Interests: We may process personal data when it is necessary for our legitimate interests, provided this does not outweigh the individual's rights and freedoms.

7. How We Use Personal Data

We use personal data for the following purposes:

- To provide project management consultancy services to our clients.
- To communicate with clients, employees, contractors, and suppliers.
- To manage contracts, financial transactions, and other administrative tasks.
- To comply with legal and regulatory obligations.
- To improve our services and operations through feedback and analysis.

8. Data Retention

We will retain personal data for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which it was collected. After this period, personal data will be securely deleted or anonymised. The retention period may vary depending on the type of data, the purpose of processing, and any legal or regulatory requirements. For example, financial records may need to be kept for a minimum of six years to comply with tax laws.

9. Data Sharing and Transfers

We do not share personal data with third parties unless:

- It is necessary to provide our services (e.g., sharing data with contractors, subcontractors, or suppliers).
- We are legally required to do so (e.g., to comply with a court order or regulatory request).
- We have obtained your explicit consent to share your data.
- We may transfer personal data outside the UK in certain circumstances, such as with international clients or service providers. In such cases, we ensure that appropriate safeguards are in place to protect your data.
- Where required, Lockrose conducts Data Protection Impact Assessments (DPIAs) to assess and mitigate risks to individuals' rights and freedoms.

10. Security of Personal Data

Lockrose may act as Controller, Processor, or Independent Controller depending on the circumstances, and in each case we comply with applicable UK GDPR obligations for that role.

Where third-party processors are engaged, Lockrose ensures they are bound by written agreements requiring equivalent data protection obligations.

We implement appropriate technical and organisational measures to protect personal data from unauthorised access, disclosure, alteration, or destruction. These measures include:

- Encryption of sensitive data where appropriate.
- Access controls and secure authentication procedures.
- Regular security audits and updates to our systems and software.
- Employee training on data protection and privacy practices.

Lockrose maintains records of data processing activities and periodically reviews compliance. We may provide evidence of compliance to clients or regulators where reasonably required

11. Your Rights Under the UK GDPR

You have the following rights regarding your personal data:

- Right to Access: You can request a copy of the personal data we hold about you.
- Right to Rectification: You can request that we correct any inaccurate or incomplete personal data.
- Right to Erasure (Right to be Forgotten): You can request that we delete your personal data in certain circumstances.
- Right to Restriction of Processing: You can request that we restrict the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances.
- Right to Data Portability: You can request that we provide your personal data in a structured, commonly used, and machine-readable format.

- Right to Object: You can object to the processing of your personal data in certain circumstances, including for direct marketing purposes.
- Rights Related to Automated Decision-Making: You have the right not to be subject to decisions based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produces legal effects or similarly significantly affects you.
- To exercise your rights, please contact us using the details provided below.

12. Complaints

If you believe that we have not processed your personal data in accordance with the UK GDPR, you have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK's independent data protection authority. You can contact the ICO at:

Information Commissioner's Office (ICO)

Wycliffe House
Water Lane
Wilmslow
Cheshire, SK9 5AF
www.ico.org.uk

13. Accountability and Compliance

Lockrose may act as a Controller, Processor, or Independent Controller depending on the circumstances of the processing. In all roles, we comply with the UK GDPR, the Data Protection Act 2018, and any applicable guidance from the Information Commissioner's Office. We:

- Conduct Data Protection Impact Assessments (DPIAs) where required.
- Maintain records of processing activities to demonstrate compliance.
- Ensure any third-party processors or sub-processors are bound by written agreements with equivalent data protection obligations.
- Have procedures for detecting, managing, and reporting data breaches, including notifying the ICO and affected data subjects where required.
- Provide reasonable assurance and evidence of compliance where requested by regulators or clients.
